UNSC: welcome to vytal

hey everyone this is my first story hope you like it. if you have any suggestions on how i can make it better and if you have any ideas for any of the chapters let me know and i might include if you want just let me know any way lets start this story oh and the year is 2557,conduits are people with superhuman abilities,UNSF is just something i made up it stands for *united nations space fleet thats about it

command this is the UNSF CRAYO the coordinates you sent us were wrong th-static they sent us towards debris field. command do you read me command! static

 Santos lopez keys pov **

~FIVE YEARS LATTER~

this was the last transmission we heard from the USNF CRAYO the year was 2552 no one knows what happened but today may have a lead. what kind of lead cortana. well the beacon it was activated. wait cortana i thought the planets was inhabited. listen santos we need that beacon you know it has an A.I if the enemy get there hands on that technology they can find out about our secrets,weapons,and weaknesses. ok cortana start a squad we leave in ten hours. i will go with four other you decide cortana as long as there conduits

~FIVE YEARS AGO~

one day a meteor came crashing down from the sky except it wasn't a meteor it was a ship. but not even the smartest scientist couldn't open it. the ship was marvelous. on the side of the ship was writing that said UNSF CRAYO hmm wonder what UNSF even means. any ways we tried everything to open the doors from explosive dust to explosive guns but nothing then i do one little thing and what do you know it opens

>so i know its not a lot because i ran out of ideas and i'm sleepy because its 2:24pm any ways tell me if i can improve it in any way and if you got an idea go ideas for the next chapter and if i use it ill be sure to give thanks to you and any one who helped you thanks for reading and review
